

Tech Tip #58 eDOC-It Printer Pending Area

**These settings and features may not be available for all clients. If you do not see them, please contact your solution provider.** eDOC-It Printer Pending Area Preferences

To open the settings menu for the eDOC-It Virtual Printer, you need to first print a document to the eDOC-It printer. This will run the application and open the tool in the windows system tray.

The system tray is found in the bottom-right corner of your screen and can be opened by clicking the "up" arrow (see screenshot below). In the system tray, find the small purple eDOC logo and double-click on it.

This opens a separate window containing the eDOC-IT printer settings. Select your preferred option when printing documents.
